Side note for the Automag videos:

These videos were included with every Airgun Designs marker. The first line of Automag markers came with the video in a plain black cover which was replaced with the full color seen below. The same color/design cover was also used for the Automag RT line of markers. Be sure when you are checking your collection that you do not inadvertently collect the same video, based on the tape jacket alone.

PRESERVING Paintball History

Pricing of Collectables Defined....

Many collectible items have a value range. This range is based on a number of factors as listed below.

1.) Rarity

- Estimation of total circulated copies or total print run.
- Estimation of copies still in circulation. (Example: Thousands of APG back issues were destroyed in a warehouse flood)
- Early issues, especially #1 issues are usually more sought after.

2.) Condition

- Items can range from poor quality to very fine condition.

3.) Simple Demand

- Certain issues sell out at the time of release and simply create a bigger demand as a result.

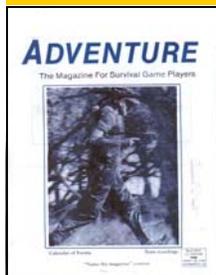

All listed items that do not have a value assigned are may still be available from the Publisher. In some cases the value has not been gestimated.

Some values will be adjusted or added in new editions of the collector's guide.

About Our Curator

The Pro Star Sports “World Paintball Library” has been a labor of love for years now. Many hours have been spent researching the globe in an effort to stay on top of Paintball’s ever evolving media. This relentless effort has now yielded the most comprehensive collection of paintball related materials ever assembled. Games and toys were added just for fun. For Guy Cooper, curator of the library, it’s a never ending job. The library is still in need of various items and the search will continue. A current list of missing media is available from The World Paintball Library.

Visit www.worldpaintballlibrary.com for more information.

Guy Cooper has been a staple of the paintball industry from the start. He’s the President of Pro Star Sports, Inc, a player at local fields and plays various nationwide events. Some of Guy’s paintball achievements include:
